GUIDE TO THE AW37 KIL FILE

[This file is concerned with the Munda-speaking Kol tribe of India living in the Vindhya Mountains and Kaimur Hills, particularly in Rewa State and the Central Provinces. There is only one source in the Kol file (1: Griffiths). This is a well-rounded study by a Methodist missionary who spent fifteen years among the Hinduized Kols around Jubbulpore in the Central Provinces. Since this is the only source, data are scant in many areas, particularly in that of material culture. However, what data there are are well localized in time (ca. the 1930's) and place, and should be relatively easy to use in cross-cultural studies. The file was processed in 1964, and has no special marking decisions.]
